COMPLEXION OF CASE IS CHANGED

Judge Broadbuss of Connersville Holds Three of Court's Instructions Were Wrong.

REDDINGTON VS. CRESOTE CO.

Jury Returns Judgment for $62.25 Against Alpheus P. Walker for William P. Lucas.

Judge L. L. Broadbuss of Connersville, acting as special judge in the case of William Reddington against the American Creosoting company, gave a decision this morning favorable to the defendant company which completely changes the complexion of the case, as far as the finding of the jury was concerned. Judge Broadbuss sustained the motion of the creosoting company for a review of the judgment.

The case was sent here on a change of venue from Hancock county. It was tried about two years ago before Judge Megee and a jury. The jury gave Reddington damages in the sum of $1,550. Notice of an appeal was filed, but through an error in the time of filing, the case was withdrawn from the supreme court. Reddington asked damage because he alleged that his land was damaged through creosote being carried there by a stream.

After the case was brought back here from the supreme court the defendant company filed a motion for a review of the judgment. Judge Broadbuss in reviewing the judgment, held that it was excessive by $500; that three of the court's instructions to the jury were wrong and that parts of the original complaint were faulty. His decision was quite lengthy but these three points were the basis for ordering the judgment reviewed.

His decision complicates the case more than ever. Several courses are open to the attorneys, it was stated. The attorneys for the plaintiff may take the case to the supreme court on Judge Broadbuss' finding or the case may be retired in court here. Another case similar to this one is still on the docket awaiting the outcome of this suit.

The jury trying the case of William P. Lucas against Alpheus P. Walker, returned a verdict this afternoon for Lucas, awarding him judgment in the sum of $62.25. The suit was for labor performed for Walker by Lucas and the original demand was $134.76. It was understood that before the case started this morning the plaintiff offered to take $50. The jury deliberated about an hour.

The case of Lucas against Walker was the first to be heard by a jury this term of court. The evidence was all given to the jury shortly before noon and the argument started after noon hour. The defense maintained a settlement between Walker and Lucas had been effected through John Joyce, acting as an attorney. It was alleged that Walker paid Joyce for Lucas the sum of $28.50 and that Lucas had no ground for action.

The jury was as follows: A. E. Junken, Jacob Hiner, Jabez Winslip, Clarence Tevis, John T. Seull, W. D. Kirkpatrick, Noah Moore, Conrad Kiser, W. B. Morris, John Jordan, William R. Taylor, George Lawson.

The case of James Kratzer against Martha Mesier, for the appointment of a guardian was dismissed and the costs paid.

The Empire Cream Separator company has filed suit on an account against Elbert S. Carr, demanding $200.

LAST DAY OF THE VACATION

School "Kids" Will Start on Daily Grind Next Monday.

Today was the last day of the summer vacation for the school "kids" of Rushville. Monday they will have to start on the daily grind of school work. All of the school teachers had reached the city this morning in time for the city teachers institute. The morning was devoted to several addresses by teachers concerning the coming year's work. This afternoon sectional meetings were held and the work for the year outlined and discussed.

WALKS ARE ORDERED BY CITY COUNCIL

Resolutions Calling for Improvement in Stewart and Tompkins Addition Passed.

REMONSTRANCE IS SUSTAINED

At a special meeting of the city council last night the preliminary resolutions for the sidewalk improvements in the Stewart and Tompkins addition were passed and bids for the work will be received October 5. The sidewalks will be constructed on both sides of Twelfth street from Main to Willow and on both sides of Willow from Eleventh to a point 100 feet north of Twelfth street and on Eleventh street from Perkins to Willow.

A cement walk will also be put in on the east side of Main street, from Tenth street to Eleventh street. In this case the property owners were given permission to construct their own walks under the provision of the city ordinance. Last night was the time set for hearing remonstrances, but none were presented to the council, except on the improvement by putting in a cement walk on the south side of Eleventh street from Jackson street to Main street. On this improvement a remonstrance signed by three resident property owners was presented and was sustained by the council. Of the five resident property owners on the street, two favored the improvement.

FIRST SUIT HERE UNDER A NEW LAW

Jones and Younger File Suit to Foreclose Lien on Automobile for Repair Work.

J. D. STEWART IS DEFENDANT

A suit to foreclose a lien on an automobile for repair work was filed today by Odice Jones and Charles Younger, owners of a garage doing business under the firm name of Jones and Younger, against John D. Stewart and O. F. Bussard. The demand is $125. The suit is the first one ever brought here under the law permitting garage men to take liens on machines for repair work.

It is alleged that Stewart owes the garage $66.10. Bussard is named as a defendant to the action because it is alleged he has a prior lien and is asked to answer for his interest.

Martin Kelly has filed an account suit against John D. Stewart, demanding $125.

ABOUT A DOZEN WANT THE JOB

Chamber of Commerce Directors Received Large Number of Applicants for Hitchrack Place.

ONE TO CALL ON MERCHANTS

At Monthly Meeting of Board Enthusiastic Reports Made by Band and Style Show Committee.

There were close to a dozen applicants for the job as caretaker of the hitchrack at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Friday night. The board today invited Tom Scanlan, former nightwatchman, to visit the merchants who support the hitchrack and see if it is agreeable with them for him to take up the work.

That A. M. Price, the former caretaker, who dropped dead last Monday while marching with the local company of Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, at "The War in Indiana" was not appreciated until he was gone is just now being revealed. Merchants are hearing from the country people what a valuable man Mr. Price was, how courteous he was to the women who left their horses at the hitchrack and how he looked after their welfare. It also has developed that many country people thought so much of Mr. Price that they frequently brought him produce.

At the board meeting H. S. Havens, chairman of the band committee, reported that the band concert would continue each Wednesday night throughout this month, making three more concerts to be played. The agreement with the band was that the concerts should continue until the first of October and the necessary funds to defray the expense were raised some time ago.

The committee which made the band concerts possible and the band as well are being widely praised for the entertainment which they have furnished for the people of Rushville and Rush county as well during the summer. Farmers drove in for many miles around in their machines for the concerts. The crowd at the concert this week was the largest out for several weeks. Earl Robertson, soloist, has also added much to the attractiveness of the concerts. Aside from the fact that the concerts have furnished entertainment, they have been a means of supporting the band, an organization which has been too much neglected, in the opinion of most persons. It is the common belief that men who give of their time so lavishly and willingly with such poor returns should be supported most liberally.

Many have testified that without the Chamber of Commerce the band concerts would not have been held. The Chamber of Commerce formed a medium through which a committee could be started on the work and the chairman of the committee was a live one and got results. It is the first time Rushville has had regular band concerts for years and they have been immensely appreciated.

E. R. Casady, chairman of the style show committee of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that the committee had called on all of the merchants during the week and that fifty had joined in the enterprise.

It will be an entirely new thing here. The dates selected are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 21, 22 and 23. The idea of the show is for all merchants to hold their fall openings simultaneously. All the stores will be "dressed up" appropriate to the occasion.

—Miss Inez Stager of Carthage was a visitor in this city today.

SAY WAYNE WILL BE REPRESENTED

Boosting Committee Brings Back Optimistic Reports After Visit in Richmond Friday

DECORATIONS A FEATURE

Ox Roast Committee Decides to Get Another Kettle in Indianapolis, One Here Not Big Enough

Local boosters who were in Richmond Friday reported that there is considerable interest being shown in Wayne county in the Republican ox roast and barbecue to be held in the city park next Wednesday.

Republican leaders in Wayne county are counting on a delegation of 100 Republicans from Richmond and Cambridge City promised to send a good sized crowd when the Rushville boosters stopped there Friday afternoon. Wayne county Republicans do not have to depend on automobiles because the Pennsylvania trains run conveniently for them to come in the morning and return in the evening at 6:35.

The committee on decorations today made the request that every person in Rushville who had a big flag to donate it to the committee. Persons having such flags are asked to take them to Walter W. Hubbard chairman of the committee, at F. B. Johnson & company's drug store, and call Mr. Hubbard by telephone and he will call for them.

The committee also requested that all farmers living on the main pikes leading into Rushville display flags and other decorations on next Wednesday so that visiting delegations, when they reach the edge of the county, will know that the Republicans of Rush county are up and astir and ready to act as hosts. It is hoped to interest Republicans in adjoining counties in the scheme of decorating their homes also.

The committee will also ask merchants to decorate for the day. Because of the large crowd that is expected, it is believed that merchants generally irrespective of politics will help out with the entertainment.

The kettle arrived last evening and rests on a dray near the corner of Second and Main streets. It is not a six hundred gallon kettle as N. D. Lawrence, the "burgoo" man, said it would be. The mathematicians in the court house have been figuring ever since the kettle arrived to determine just how much it would hold. They finally computed the size this morning and found that it will hold 277½ gallons.

The kettle is thirty-one inches deep and thirty-seven inches in diameter. Charles Bales, deputy county auditor, and A. M. Taylor, clerk of the circuit court, both of whom were school teachers before they entered the court house figured the contents of a perfect sphere with a diameter of fifty-seven inches. The depth of one-half of a perfect sphere of that diameter would be twenty-eight inches, thus leaving three inches of the top of the kettle unaccounted for. The contents of the half sphere was found to be 244 plus gallons and the contents of the cylinder three inches high and fifty-seven inches across thirty-three and one-half gallons.

Because the kettle is not as big as expected, the ox roast committee has decided to send to Indianapolis and get one of the kettles which the Columbia Club has secured for the Republican state-wide barbecue at the state fair grounds September 22. It is believed that all the "burgoo" it would take to fill the kettle which

PROPOSES A CONFERENCE

Carranza's Reply, However, is a Refusal to Peace Plea.

(By United Press.)
Washington, Sept. 11.—General Carranza's answer to the Pan-American peace plea reached the state department this afternoon. As expected, it was a refusal and did not include a direct request for recognition and did propose a conference at the border. How soon it would be made public in detail was uncertain.

DENIES HE GAVE OUT AN INTERVIEW

German Ambassador Bernstorff Denies he Said Diplomatic Break Would Mean War.

NO STATEMENT AUTHORIZED

(By United Press.)
New York, Sept. 11.—A reporter for the United Press this afternoon called the attention of German Ambassador Bernstorff to an interview in today's edition of the Sun crediting to him the statement that a diplomatic break between United States and Germany would result in war.

"I have given no person an interview on any subject and have authorized no such statement," he said.

"Does the statement represent your sentiments?" he was asked.

"I can not make any statement of my sentiments."

"Have you authorized any statement of your sentiments?"

"No."

PROPOSES TO OPEN A SOUP HOUSE HERE

Envoy Tharp of Salvation Army Says he Hopes to Provide Shelter For 25 at One Time.

TRUSTEE IS CO-OPERATING

Envoy Noah Tharp, of the local corps of the Salvation Army, stated today that he expected to start a soup house here in the next two or three weeks if a desirable location can be found. He appeared before the city council Friday night and asked permission to establish such an institution and was told by the council that it had no reason to say whether he should or should not. Envoy Tharp stated today that he had the co-operation of the township trustee in the project.

Tharp's idea is that families of many able-bodied men live off the township and that the men who should work get most of the township's donation, failing to divide it with their families. His proposed institution is calculated to take care of cases of that kind. He said he expected to have room for accommodating 25 persons over night. He hopes to make his soup house a place for wayfarers who happen to be here over night and have no funds to buy shelter. He says he has conducted similar institutions elsewhere with success.

GAME SUNDAY.

The K. of C.'s and the Red Men will play Sunday afternoon at Edgewater park. The two teams are great rivals in the Fraternal league and a good game is expected. The contest will start at 2:30 o'clock.

TAGGART'S NAME IS BROUGHT IN

Prosecutor Rucker Says he Solicited $1,000 From Breweries For Campaign Fund.

FAILS TO PLACE IT IN LIST

Styles Perrot Corrupt Chief of Police Appointed by Corrupt Mayor—Speech Unfinished.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., September 11.—Thomas Taggart was brought in to Mayor Joseph E. Bell's election conspiracy trial for the first time today when Prosecutor John Rucker declared that the Democratic national committeeman solicited funds from breweries in violation of the corrupt practices act, and did not list the contribution in the report. Taggart is a defendant in the indictment.

"This self-styled perfect angel of this trial who knew no evil, solicited, we can prove $1,000 from the brewers. How much more he solicited we do not know," said Rucker.

It was believed that Rucker, when he spoke of Taggart, as the self-styled angel, referred to a statement Mr. Taggart made to the United Press when James (Bud) Gibson, a defendant, pleaded guilty. Mr. Taggart said: "Gibson is a man I never knew nor had any dealing with in my life." Mr. Taggart was not present today when Rucker launched into an attack on the Indianapolis police department and Sam Perrott, chief of police, and a defendant to the indictment.

"We will show," shouted Rucker, "that Mayor Bell, Sam Perrott and other politicians conspired to accept bribe money from saloon men and other people and that this money went into a slush fund used to corrupt this election while the donors continued their illegal traffic."

"Perrott, a corrupt chief was appointed by a corrupt mayor. The police have been sent here and there on this mission by these men until the force is demoralized. They were stationed at the polls with instructions to hinder the registration because this gang wanted the smallest registration as possible. They beat negroes and arrested them without the slightest cause."

When a dozen negroes led into the Prosecutor's office today and seated themselves in chairs provided for state witnesses it was taken to indicate that the state would open its case with attempting to prove the charges of intimidation of the negroes at the polls.

Rucker detailed instances of alleged corruption in which he declared Bell's hand could be seen. When Attorney Ryan interrupted to ask for facts instead of generalities, De-

WHEAT CROP IS ABOUT THRESHED

Dealers Say That it and Oats in Rush County Practically All Out of Shocks.

THE LAST OF POOR QUALITY

In Several Cases Wet Grain is Threshed and Sold For Hog Feed—Too Musty For Flour.

Elevator men state that they believe most or all of the wheat and oats in this county has now been threshed. Much of the latest to be taken in from the shock has been of a very bad quality owing to the numerous floods the grain went through. Some of it which has been brought to grain dealers as samples has been pronounced to be worth about 80 cents per bushel, while the first quality of dry wheat is now worth about 98 cents. However, there is much of the late threshed grain which is not worth even 80 cents per bushel. At various times grain men have rated much of the wet threshed wheat to be worth about one cent per pound.

In several cases the wet grain has been threshed and sold directly for hog feed. Millers state that they do not care to attempt to make flour out of the musty grain because it always shows in the flour and the housewives have had bad luck with the bread they bake and then there is a howl and the complaints always bounce back at them.

Much of the oats crop of the county has also been threshed in a very poor condition and some fields have been abandoned altogether. Old farmers say they have seen only a few seasons like the present one.

Farmers will begin to fill their silos next week. Only a few new silos have been erected this year. Last year there were a great many. The abundance of hay and other kinds of feed, together with the condition of business generally, probably kept a number of farmers from buying this year. The advantage and great value of the silo on the farm is generally admitted and many farmers who do not now have silos will build them just as soon as soon as they feel they can afford to do so. Some farmers did not consume all their ensilage last year. They will put new ensilage in the silos, leaving the old. It is said ensilage has been known to keep 17 years in as good condition as it was the first year. One farmer filled his silo last year, expecting to buy cattle to feed, did not buy the cattle, so he still has his ensilage good as new.

puty Prosecutor Roach replied that Rucker was giving facts and that the state "will prove everyone of them."

"Bell and Perrott hired repeaters to vote for their pet candidates," cried Rucker. "They went from place to place to vote. Corrupt officials fixed voting machines so that they could not be used when the polls opened, thus delaying voting until legal voters left the polls."

"In one precinct a Bell candidate in the primaries received eleven more Democratic votes than was registered, even though he was opposed by a Democrat," said Rucker. "Although thirty-six justices of the peace at the primaries, in one precinct only four of these received votes and they were all Bell men. That could only happen by a miracle."

"Some of the tally sheets were made to order," he said. "It can be seen where names were rubbed out and others substituted. We will have witnesses to prove that in one precinct out of 190 names, one-third were fictitious."

"Terre Haute nor any other city has such a rotten precinct as the fourth or the fifth ward. It is so rotten that it stinks when you pick up the returns," he said.

Rucker referred to Frank X. O'Brien, the candidate for juvenile court, who withdrew under fire before the election, as "the unspeakable who knew no law."

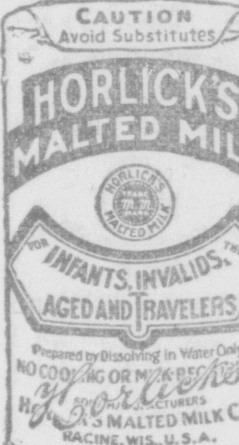

Court adjourned at noon until 9 a. m. Monday. Rucker was still speaking. He may speak most of Monday morning. The jury was taken for an auto ride this afternoon.

Strength in Union

"United we stand; divided we fall" was a slogan which led to victory in the trying times before the founding of the American Republic. It is a truth which applies in all contests in which groups of individuals are engaged. It has peculiar application to believers in Republican principles in 1912 and will be an appropriate motto for those same people to follow in 1916.

Republicans and Progressives, regardless of party designation and regardless of the attitude of a few individuals who may possibly be actuated by ambition or other selfish motives, undoubtedly advocate government by law and not by men. encouragement rather than discouragement of individual initiative, intelligent protective tariff legislation, national preparedness, and Federal aid to good roads with the responsibility of initiative and location left to the state so that the system shall be cooperated rather than paternalistic. The Democratic party, as such, is totally opposed to all these policies, as evidenced by both word and act.

Certainly the surest way of attaining these goals is by coalition of the Progressive with the Republican party, and we see no excuse for any Progressive refusing to affiliate again with the Republican party. No man or small group of men dominate that party, and if "boss ridden" is applicable at all it is certainly applicable to the Progressive and the Democratic parties, for one or two men wield more influence with the Republican party. A division of the people believing in the same principles resulted in the election of the present administration in 1912. A continued division in 1916 would result in a perpetuation of this administration. We believe, however, that a great majority of the people of this country are sufficiently wise to realize the importance of rectification of the mistake of 1912 by uniting in the election of the Republican nominees in 1916, whoever they may be.

Encourage The Schools

Another season of instruction for the youth of the community is before us.

Let us meet as it becomes an enlightened people who seek to give their offspring an education which will enable them to successfully cope with the many obstacles that will beset their pathway through life.

"But that is up to the teachers—what can we do?" you say.

We may perform our own duty in the premises by extending to the instructors our loyal support and encouragement, both by act and word.

We may impress upon our children the necessity and importance of absolute obedience to the will of the teacher.

We may instill into their young minds the knowledge that unless they improve their educational advantages and opportunities of today, the commercial advantages of tomorrow will pass them by.

This is a day of education, and the man whose mind has received proper training will be found invariably in the ascendant, filling the important positions of life, accumulating the financial competence which their uneducated brothers seek in vain to the end of their days.

It is vitally necessary that our children receive every educational advantage possible to bestow upon them, and this may only be accomplished to the fullest extent by working in harmony with both teacher and pupil.

Be not hasty in condemning the teacher for trivial things, but rather bear in mind that the child who comes home with complaints often voices conditions which exist mainly in its too vivid imagination.

Remember that the teacher has reached the age of discretion—the child has not. The reasoning capacity of the one has been extended and broadened and developed to a degree, while with the other it is just beginning to bud.

The future life of the children of our community will be smoothed and sweetened by our loyalty to the teacher today, and in your own decline of life you will view with pride the results of wisdom properly applied.

If the road officials of Rush county will take the proper care of the roads, Rush county will not have to be paying a sixty-cent tax levy to pay off gravel road bonds in the future. The mania for building new roads that seized this county a few years ago and never ceased until most of the townships had reached their bonded indebtedness limit is responsible, in a measure, for the high tax rate in this county. Of course, the thirty-five cents added for the new school building contributed much to the increase, but the rate was somewhat above the average for counties in this part of Indiana before that increase. The school building was a necessity. Good roads are also. But the expense of building new ones can be lessened by proper care.

The chautauqua management here is to be congratulated for coming out on the right side of the ledger financially. Financial success of chautauqua in this part of the state was the exception this year, rather than the rule. Although it was not the case here, attendance was not up to the standard elsewhere. The program here this year was the most costly one ever arranged and that it was appreciated is attested by the excellent attendance. The officers of the chautauqua deserves the commendation of the community for their unselfish labors in a cause which pays no dividends other than the uplift and betterment of the people of the county.

The Department of Commerce at Washington has a little "side line" in the form of "Commerce Reports" a publication at $2.50 a year. The department has sent out a letter to prove that it is worth the money. Included with the letter is a reprint editorial from the Chicago Tribune, boosting the department.

The prince of Wales has definitely decided that he will not wed with a German princess. Just so! And apparently his royal highness has quite definitely decided that he will not connect up with a German bullet.

Great scheme! Let's pass a law requiring the millionaires to form the first line in case of war. Then they could promptly buy off the enemy and we wouldn't have to fight.

Current Comments

Of Democratic Parentage

(Newport Champion)

A canvass made by the New York sun for the purpose of determining how the Wilson administration is taking with the people of the country, shows his foreign policy to be popular and his Mexican and his domestic policies to be more unpopular. The Sun's bureau sent out about 500 inquiries to political friends and acquaintances scattered over all parts of the country. The replies were sent in after investigation in their vicinity by the parties interrogated. The cause for the prevalence of this sentiment is not far to seek. The relations of the country with other countries is a subject about which the average person knows but little. The average man, however is patriotic and in consequence of his patriotism stands by the President regardless of which party put him in power. When it comes to the matter of tariff and other economic policies upon which the prosperity of the country depends, the aforementioned average man feels capable of formulating his own ideas, and favoring that which experience has shown to be for the business welfare. Or in other words, the dinner pail problem is closer to the heart of the Tommy Atkins of industry than diplomacy. The voter does not want to lose sight of the fact that the conditions arising from the European war, have been thrust upon us, and the party in power has but little significance, but the deplorable condition of business is a child of Democratic parentage.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

The residents of the city of New-castle will have to pay $3.23 per hundred dollars of assessed valuation next year, according to the levy just made there.

The total tax rate for the city of Richmond, including the county, state, township, city and school levies, will be at least four or five cents higher than last year, according to the present estimates in the office of County Auditor Bowman. The tax rate for 1916, according to these figures will be either $3.30 or $3.31 on the $100.

The report of the treasurer of the Columbus chautauqua for the last assembly reveals that the association lost $372. It was necessary to draw on the reserve fund of $1,300 to make up the deficiency. At the annual meeting of the association, one stockholder complained about two much classical music. Although no one said so, it was presumed that some of the stockholders wanted to turn it into a vaudeville show.

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared for the United Press by the Indiana Historical Commission)

General Lafayette in Indiana

The year 1825 was eventful throughout the United States for the visit of Lafayette, an Indiana memorial of which is found in the name of the capital of Tippecanoe county. As Indiana's new capital was insignificant and inaccessible. Gov. Ray met the guest of honor at Jeffersonville on the Ohio River.

"In the forest adjoining the village" wrote Mrs. Levering in her history "a feast was spread to which the general was conducted by the state militia, and children strewed flowers in his path. At the head of the long table was an arch with the inscription, 'Indiana Welcomes Lafayette, the champion of liberty in both hemispheres.'"

Flexible Stone.

Itacolumite is a peculiar stone which is found in Brazil. When flexible itacolumite is cut into thin plates, and when examined with a microscope it is found to be composed almost entirely of fine grains of sand of peculiar shape, with indented edges which interlock like the fingers of clasped hands. The flexibility of the material results from this interlocking of the grains of sand, of which it is chiefly composed. Although but few persons know that this stone can be anything but hard, the flexible stone is not so much of a curiosity as it seems, for it is found in North Carolina, and there are specimens of it in a case at the Philadelphia collection. The sensation of handling a piece of stone which bends like a piece of rubber is a strange experience. If handled too roughly the stone breaks.—Indianapolis News.

THE SECRET WORD

Our War Department Has About the Best Code in Existence.

SIMPLE, FLEXIBLE AND RAPID.

The Navy Has a Cipher of Its Own, as Has Also the Department of State. One of the Codes Used by England For Unimportant Messages.

The United States government employs probably more different kinds of codes than any other power. The state department has one of its own. The war department has one. And the navy uses a separate and distinct system. The code book or key of the navy cipher is kept always in a canvas bag, which is lined with zinc and heavily weighted. The bag is in the personal custody of the commanding officer of the ship, who has orders never to let it get away from him, but to throw it overboard in the event of capture by an enemy. The advent of wireless telegraphy has made this precaution doubly necessary, for the solution of an enemy's cipher in time of war might easily turn the scales of victory.

The only naval code book ever captured by an enemy was the one carried by the Chesapeake in the war of 1812. The commander of the Chesapeake, Captain Lawrence, was wounded early in the battle, and no one else knew where the code book was kept. When the frigate surrendered the British found the code behind a sliding panel, and the book is now in the British museum.

The cipher of the war department is very simple in its nature and by virtue of this simplicity, ease of operation, inscrutability and rapidity with which a new key can be substituted is said to hold first place among the military ciphers of the world. Army officers who have used other codes say that none of them compares to this one.

This cipher may in a general way be described as an ingenious method of distorting the order of words in a message and further obscuring the meaning by the systematic introduction of irrelevant words and meaningless names. The variety of distortions is great, and whenever a copy of the cipher is captured another cipher can be communicated in a very short time to all those who should have it.

A simple and ingenious naval cipher was invented by Captain Charles Morris for the use of the American navy during the war of 1812 and has been utilized by the navy department, with modifications, ever since. The principle is applicable alike to flag ciphers or numerical ciphers transmitted by telegraph or wireless.

Captain Morris in a hand written signal book bound by him in 1811 stated:

A circumstance may sometimes render it desirable to change the significance of the flags or the numbers expressed by them. The following method should therefore be adopted:

Let each day of the week be inserted in the signal book opposite a number. To each of these days affix a certain number, which is always to be communicated orally under charge of secrecy, that no enemy or improper person can become acquainted with it. The following list is an example:

Sunday	.....(add).....	3
Monday	.....	6
Tuesday	.....	7
Wednesday	.....	8
Thursday	.....	6
Friday	.....	4
Saturday	.....	2

Before commencing your communication insert the number corresponding to the day you wish to use. This will signify to the person who is to read the signal that he is to add the number corresponding to that day to all signals that may be made. The person sending the signal will subtract the same number from all signals. By this means an enemy's knowledge of your ordinary signals might really be converted to his disadvantage instead of the benefit which he might promise himself from them.

While nobody could tell you today the code used by any power in transmitting important and vital news and instructions, some of the more ordinary ciphers have been discovered. For instance, one of the simplest of all official ciphers is that used by the British foreign office for the transmission of comparatively unimportant messages, the cipher being too well known to risk detection when there is much at stake.

The letters of the alphabet are arranged in the form of a square:

1	2	3	4	5
f	g	h	i	j
k	l	m	n	o
u	v	w	x	y

Each letter is then represented by two numerals. Thus A would be 11, D would be 41, R would be 34, and so on. The letter Z, which has to be omitted from the cipher because of the fact that there are twenty-six letters in the alphabet, is represented by 0, while the same symbol is used to separate words.

Thus in "Rush arms to Zanzibar" the cipher would be:

315443201134344054300114042211124.

This cipher has the advantage of almost infinite variety, as by changing the arrangement of the numerals one may easily baffle a chance recipient of the message, while the person for whom the cipher is intended would have no trouble in reading it.—James Hay, Jr., in Every Week.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normal active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. It becomes a habit, a disease, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

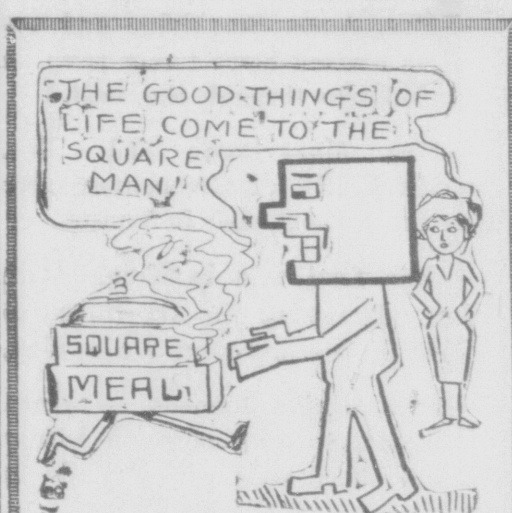

Unslightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. It is a well-known fact that there is a very simple remedy to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only take a few of these tablets with each meal, and at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the 'sentinel' tablets as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning of the bowels, and encouraging the 'cathartic habit.' Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence, functioning as a 'soothing' agent, and add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. The inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, finally been found.—Druggists Review.

ONE of the good things that help make life worth while—is a square meal. Be fair with yourself—isn't it to your advantage to buy your foodstuffs at a store where you are sure of getting the very best? If you buy your groceries here all your meals will be good. We invite you to trade here, knowing that we can please you.

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Sept. 11.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul, who is generally credited with being the cleverest fighter in the ring today, and Packey McFarland of Chicago, who was generally credited with all that two or three years ago, will come together at the Brighton Motordrome tonight. The tilt is scheduled to last ten rounds, and there is no reason to doubt that it will be any shorter, barring lucky punches.

The pugilistic world has been fed up for a month for this bout. Past records have been delved into, almost everyone who ever heard of a boxing glove has speculated on its outcome, and when it is all simmered down this big feature stands out above the rest—that no one, not even McFarland or Gibbons themselves—knows any more about it than anyone else. And that is nothing!

Jim Jeffries proved to the boxing world at Reno five years ago that there is no "dope" on a fighter who has been out of the game several years. Jeff was going better than he had ever gone in his life, according to the men who watched him train—everything that had carried him to the front ranks of boxers. But after he got in the ring he didn't have anything except a memory of what had been, and a mighty sore head.

McFarland has been out of the game over two years. In that time he hasn't boxed much even in practice and any dub of an athletic judge can testify that it doesn't take a man long to go back when he isn't working; that a paunch is easier acquired than removed. Not that Packey has a paunch, however, at least externally. He looks, and says, he is, in shape.

There can be little doubt that the St. Paul phantom is right. He has been boxing steadily, working right along, and boxing critics consider him now at the zenith of a successful career.

There is plenty of Gibbons dope. There is none of McFarland. And for that reason fight fans generally have picked the little Minnesota man to win.

Chances of a knockout, either way, were regarded today as about as probable as Bryan's ascendancy to the White House. It takes a good man to put away even a second rater in a ten round affair, particularly if that second rater has a pair of legs that conceal the speed in getting away from a sleep wallop that McFarland's does.

McFarland is more or less noted for the fact that he never acquired a tin ear or any other disfiguring marks in the ring.

"Nobody's going to spoil my map," is the McFarland slogan. And nobody—even the best ones—have spoiled Mike's to any great extent, so fight fans particularly New York ones, are looking for a rattling good exhibition of scientific boxing, and little or no slugging.

Next to the possibility of a k. o., interest has been centered largely in the amount the boxers are to get. McFarland is scheduled to pull down coin at the rate of nearly $600 a minute if the battle goes ten rounds. He is guaranteed $17,500, win lose or draw. Mike is going to collect $15,000 for his end.

All records stand shattered for the amount paid for a ten round fight, and a no-decision affairs, at that. Opinions vary like the breeze as to how the promoters are going to come out. W. C. Marshall, some New York sporting men and sport writers are behind the affair.

The record books show that McFarland has engaged in over a hundred fights since he broke into the game. He has won practically all of these—barring the no-decision bouts. He won over Freddie Welsh in Milwaukee in 1908, knocked out Jimmy Britt the same year, and later fought Welsh a 25 round draw. Ray Bronson, of Indianapolis held him to a 20 round draw—and there was a lot of kicking on the decision—in New Orleans. Those who saw the bout favored the Hoosier.

Gibbons hasn't fought that many, but has been equally successful. His record shows knockouts of Young Ahearn, Bob McAllister, Wildcat Ferns, other lesser lights, and a whole raft of no decision affairs.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE.

Candidates for the Rushville football team will work out Sunday morning at ten o'clock at Edgewater park. All the men desiring a try-out are urged to be at the park in uniform. The prospects for a good team are very bright and it is believed that a winning team can be developed. The first practice should bring out a big field of candidates.

A Museum's Worst Enemy.

One of the worst enemies curators of museums have to contend with is a tiny beetle, which works so neatly that there is no evidence of its woeful work until the specimen is found dismembered or otherwise ruined. Neither in America or England has any effective remedy been found. The tiny mischief worker is the Anthrenus museumum. The adult measures only or even less than one-eighth of an inch in length and is convex in form. The female lays eggs in specimens, and the larvae feed on them—the valued butterfly and the magnificent beetle—brought from afar. These larvae are small, plump, hairy grubs, and the sole sign of their presence, likely to be overlooked by the amateur, is a few specks of brown dust in the case.—Scientific American.

PURDUE EXPECTS WINNING TEAM

Boilermakers Have Plenty of Material And Team Will be as Heavy as Any Conference.

SEASON OPENS OCTOBER 2.

Wisconsin is Feared by Lafayette Team—Expects to Finish Higher Than Last Year

(By United Press.)

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 11.—All of Purdue's candidates for the 1915 'varsity crew assembled on Stuart Field today for the first time this year. Coach Smith called it the best squad he has had since coming to the Lafayette school. Conference rules prevented the coach from doing more than give the squad the once over. He will take charge of it on September 20. On that date Captain Blocker will have charge of the daily workouts.

It was to be noted today that in one thing Purdue is not going to be surpassed by any member of the Big Nine—that was beef and brawn. The four candidates for the two guard positions—Arbuckle, Jordan, Prond, and Mason—weighed in the afternoon at an average of 195 pounds. Other candidates for the line are Oxer, Sheridan, Cooley, Mackintosh, Montgomery, Lognecker and Dickson. The most promising candidates for halfbacks are Abrell and Van Akon. Burns and Beckner are believed to stand the best chance for berths at tackle. Eldridge, Pierre and Olstead, ends of last year's squad, will be given a chance as regulars this year.

The season will open on October 2 with Wabash at Lafayette. Another small school is taken on the following Saturday with Beloit on Stuart Field. The Wisconsin game here October 16 is expected to be the hardest on the Purdue card. If the Boilermakers can win this game, the first Big Nine contest of the season, it is believed that Purdue will occupy a higher place in the conference standing than she has for many years.

Iowa comes to Lafayette this year, the first since 1912.

Purdue's card follows:—

Oct. 2—Wabash at Lafayette

Oct. 9—Beloit at Lafayette

Oct. 23—Chicago at Chicago.

Oct. 30—Iowa at Lafayette

Nov. 13—Kentucky State at Lafayette

Nov. 20—Indiana at Bloomington.

HAZEL H. WINS 2:17 PACE AT STATE FAIR

Shelbyville Mare Who Could Not do Better Than Fifth Here Comes Back in Indianapolis.

DIUMETER DRAWN LAST HEAT

Hazel H., a chesnut mare owned by George Blackburn of Shelbyville, who could do no better than fifth place in 2:17 pace on Saturday of Rush county fair, faced about at the state fair in Indianapolis Friday and won the last three heats of the 2:17 pace in record time. All three heats were 2:10 when the best time in the 2:17 pace here was 2:15.

The first two heats of the race were run Thursday morning, but the finish had to be postponed on account of rain. Hazel H. finished ninth in first heat, third in the second heat on Thursday. This is further proof of the class of the races at the Rush county fair this year.

Diameter, driven by Frank Lindsay of this county, finished tenth the first two heats, second the third, the fourth and was drawn in the fifth heat of the 2:17 pace. Diameter was unable to win here.

Saving and Small Earnings.
In the Scotch parish where the savings bank originated a great majority of the inhabitants were poor cottagers. Their average wages did not run over 8 shillings (about $2) a week.

"It seemed," wrote Samuel Smiles, "a very unlikely place in which to establish a bank for savings, where the poor people were already obliged to strain every nerve to earn a bare living, to provide the means of educating their children—for, however small his income, the Scottish peasant almost invariably contrives to save something wherewith to send his children to school—and to pay their little contributions to the friendly society of the parish."

In four years this unpromising field yielded to the Rev. Henry Duncan's bank at Ruthwell nearly $5,000. The bank became self sustaining, and all over Scotland and England the new savings bank idea spread.—Chicago News.

Society Yachtman of Los Angeles Had Series of Adventures Which Proved Thrilling.

FINDS COLONY OF CANNIBALS

Unable to Get Money in Australia and Worked His Way Back to Honolulu on Ship.

Los Angeles, Sept. 11.—Warren D. Wood, former commodore of the South Coast Yacht Club, and a well known Los Angeles clubman, is back at his luxurious home here today after a series of adventures in the south seas calculated to make Robinson Crusoe jealous.

Wood went to Honolulu six months ago on a pleasure trip, while there he received an offer of the third mate's job on the British ship Krestle, and accepted it—for a lark.

Then the Jack London stuff began. When far out on the boundless sea, Skipper Tindle of the Krestle began to notice that his "third luff" shaved daily and appeared on deck wearing silk neckties. The hardy skipper objected to it. There were tense scenes and exciting situations, with the use of belaying pins seeming imminent.

Finally Wood saw that eventually somebody would have to be knocked into the lee scuppers, and being an athlete, and hard as the proverbial nails he decided to quit his job rather than hurt the captain's feelings or anything else. But it is difficult to quit a third mate's job in the middle of the south Pacific.

Wood was resourceful. One night the Krestle dropped anchor of a shadowy, tropical isle. Wood hopped into a ship's boat and rowed ashore. There he found a colony of cannibals, who ate bananas when there was nothing else handy.

He managed to keep out of the frying pan for five weeks, during which the savages fed him like a king and viewed his increasing weight with evident relish. The situation was becoming a bit embarrassing when the little Norwegian steamer Thomas arrived.

Disguised behind a five weeks beard, Wood approached the Swedish captain and asked for passage to Honolulu. He told the captain he had mansions in Los Angeles, and lots of money. The captain elevated his beetling brows, but lowered them again, growled menacingly, and finally consented to let the society man work his way to Sydney, Australia.

At Sydney, Wood told himself he would cable home for a money bag that would astonish the natives. But he did not. He was unable to identify himself to the satisfaction of the cable company, which wanted cash for message in advance. The American consul wouldn't risk the amount demanded.

Two weeks later Wood—overalls, beard and all, asked for a job on the liner Ventura. He got one—peeling potatoes.

But he got his revenge. He obtained money in Honolulu, and when the Ventura came through on its next voyage to California, he appropriated the best suite and sat at the captain's right hand all the way to San Francisco.

UNUSUAL STORY OF PRIVATION

Lumber Camp Worker And Family Are Found Starving to Death in Negro Shanty

UNABLE TO FIND EMPLOYMENT

Welfare Workers of Natchez, Miss., Help Them Along And Save Them From Starvation

(By United Press.)

Natchez, Miss., Sept. 11.—Desperately ill from exposure and starvation after having trudged 200 miles through alternate stretches of dusty, sun-scoured roads and flooded areas, Robert Powell a lumber-camp worker, his wife, four small children and agrown daughter, the latter deserted by her husband, were discovered near death in an abandoned negro shanty on the outskirts of Natchez. Welfare workers are bringing them back to health, and recording their story for preservation. When they have recovered so they can trudge again they probably will set forth once more on their wanderings in search of "their opportunity to toil."

Kind-hearted settlers living near the cabin discovered the Powell family all lying on the damp clay floor of the shack, which has been deserted even by the negro farm tenants. They gave them warm food and heard them recite their story in colorless, sing-song fashion. The Powells were too discouraged, their inspiration was too far gone for them to show animation even in the narration of their sufferings and privation.

Powell, employed as a mill-hand received $1.50 a day, a big wage for the Powell family and thousands of other such families in the South where negro labor is cheap. But he was "subject to the fortunes of the industry" and work therefore was not steady. Sometimes he would present himself in the morning eager for work and after waiting the pleasure of the foreman would be told there was "nothing doing" that day. At other times notices were read aloud to him and his fellow workers that work would be stopped for several days, even weeks. The Powells were unable to save money.

One day a notice was posted that the plant had been abandoned and that no further labor would be required.

The Powells decided it were better to move and spar with starvation on the road than to stay where they were and face it as a certainty. They moved, carrying their few miserable possessions with them and taking turns at "toting" the youngest children, mere infants. All summer the search for work continued. Powell was weak and emaciated and obtained very little employment but he managed to earn food for his road party as they went along. Then they reached Natchez and having had no work and consequently no food for several days they balked at nothing, not even the abandoned negro shanty, as a place to rest and fade into death.

Powell is working now but his employment is not steady and besides, he is only one of hundreds here in Natchez so no individual attention can be paid to his case after his family is lifted from its present plight.

TODAY HOOSIER ODDITY.

* Elwood, Ind., Sept. 11.—While C. E. Henn, a brick mason, was working on a high chimney, he suddenly lost his balance and fell headlong. Fellow workmen expected to find him dead or seriously injured, but found that a truck load of cotton sacks had happened along just in time to catch Henn.

CO-OPERATION
TOMARKETAPPLE

Effective Organizations Afford the Best Means For Placing the Crop on the Market.

A STUDY BY U. S. DEPARTMENT

Where Individuals Act Independently, There is Little Uniformity in Grading.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Effective co-operative organizations afford the best means for profitable marketing of the country's increasing apple crop, according to a survey of marketing conditions in the industry just published as bulletin No. 302, "Apple Market Investigations 1914-15" by the United States Department of Agriculture. In States where apples are boxed instead of barreled, growers' associations handle a large percentage of the output and in securing uniformity in the pack and advantageous distribution of the crop are much more successful than individual producers in other sections. Where individuals act independently there is little uniformity in grading and much poor fruit is shipped which, in seasons of large production such as 1914, cannot be disposed of profitably.

Observations in the Chicago market showed that 25 per cent. of the arrivals in earlot bulk, or the equivalent of 350 earloads, and 10 per cent of the barreled shipments, the equivalent of about 160 earloads, were of such poor quality that the price would not have paid the freight charges had these apples been shipped by themselves. By throwing out this poor fruit the farmers would not only have saved the cost of packing and shipping, but would have cleared the market for the good stock. Similar conditions were found elsewhere.

In this connection it is said that the grade and package laws now in operation in a number of States are proving effective in stabilizing the market. Uniformity in state legislation of this kind, the authors state, is however, most desirable.

The effect of the war upon the industry has been found to be less disastrous than was apprehended. Because of the cheapness of the fruit, consumption was stimulated until the exports far exceeded expectations. The German ports being closed, large quantities were shipped direct to the Scandinavian markets for the first time and this should prove of considerable benefit in future years. Direct trade with South America has also increased greatly and should continue to do so, especially if the growing trade in meat products affords additional return facilities for shipment. Careful selection, grading and packing by hand is, however, essential to the delivery of the fruit in good condition and only stock that may be classed as "Fancy" or "Extra Fancy" should be exported to South American ports.

SAME QUESTIONS
RAISED IN SUIT

Validity of Public Service Commission Act is Attacked in Court at Logansport.

IS LIKE ONE BROUGHT HERE

Contended That Commission Can Not Take Over City's Power —Phone Rates Raised.

Practically the same questions are raised in a suit filed at Logansport Friday challenging the validity of the state public service commission law as were raised in the suit brought by the city for an injunction to prevent the enforcement of the public service commission's orders raising the price of gas for two local companies and for a review of the order. The case was to be argued Friday, but that was postponed when the defense decided to change its tactics.

The suit was filed in the circuit court at Logansport by M. Winfield, who is himself the plaintiff. The complaint charges that the Public Service Commission has exceeded its powers in increasing the rates of the Logansport Home Telephone Company above the rates fixed when the company took a franchise from the city.

The complaint further alleges that the telephone company can not legally surrender or terminate its franchise and that the commission can not legally take over the powers of the city in the matter of fixing the rates for public utilities.

It is averred that the law creating the Public Service Commission is unconstitutional because it tends to impair the obligation of a contract.

The commission recently granted to the Logansport Home Telephone Company an increase in rates based upon the appraised value of the property. The telephone company, an organization of Logansport business men offered to sell its plant and business to the city at the value fixed upon it by the appraisers of the state commission.

In the suit Winfield does not disclose for whom he is acting, the inference being that he has brought the suit of his own volition.

Educational Sunday is New Thing Started in New Jersey

(By United Press.)

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 11.—The worshippers throughout New Jersey have been asked by State Commissioner of Education Calvin N. Kendall to remember especially in their devotions tomorrow the more than 600,000 school children in public and private schools who have just begun another term's work.

Last year Dr. Kendall inaugurated "Educational Sunday" and it was observed in many churches in different parts of the State. Tomorrow the day is expected to be more fully carried out than a year ago.

SPECIAL DAY HERE, TOO—

Something in the nature of "Educational Sunday" will be observed here also tomorrow. There will be special services for school children at the Main Street Christian church and at night the pastor, the Rev. C. M. Yoern, will preach a sermon on the subject.

COMPLEXION OF CASE IS CHANGED

Judge Broadbuss of Connersville Holds Three of Court's Instructions Were Wrong.

REDDINGTON VS. CRESOTE CO.

Jury Returns Judgment for $62.25 Against Alpheus P. Walker for William P. Lucas.

Judge L. L. Broadbuss of Connersville, acting as special judge in the case of William Reddington against the American Cresosoting company, gave a decision this morning favorable to the defendant company which completely changes the complexion of the case, as far as the finding of the jury was concerned. Judge Broadbuss sustained the motion of the cresosoting company for a review of the judgment.

The case was sent here on a change of venue from Hancock county. It was tried about two years ago before Judge Megee and a jury. The jury gave Reddington damages in the sum of $1,550. Notice of an appeal was filed, but through an error in the time of filing, the case was withdrawn from the supreme court. Reddington asked damage because he alleged that his land was damaged through cresosote being carried there by a stream.

After the case was brought back here from the supreme court the defendant company filed a motion for a review of the judgment. Judge Broadbuss in reviewing the judgment, held that it was excessive by $500; that three of the court's instructions to the jury were wrong and that parts of the original complaint were faulty. His decision was quite lengthy but these three points were the basis for ordering the judgment reviewed.

His decision complicates the case more than ever. Several courses are open to the attorneys, it was stated. The attorneys for the plaintiff may take the case to the supreme court on Judge Broadbuss' finding or the case may be retired in court here. Another case similar to this one is still on the docket awaiting the outcome of this suit.

The jury trying the case of William P. Lucas against Alpheus P. Walker, returned a verdict this afternoon for Lucas, awarding him judgment in the sum of $62.25. The suit was for labor performed for Walker by Lucas and the original demand was $134.76. It was understood that before the case started this morning the plaintiff offered to take $50. The jury deliberated about an hour.

The case of Lucas against Walker was the first to be heard by a jury this term of court. The evidence was all given to the jury shortly before noon and the argument started after noon hour. The defense maintained a settlement between Walker and Lucas had been effected through John Joyce, acting as an attorney. It was alleged that Walker paid Joyce for Lucas the sum of $28.50 and that Lucas had no ground for action.

The jury was as follows: A. E. Jankin, Jacob Hiner, Jabez Winship, Clarence Tevis, John T. Scull, W. D. Kirkpatrick, Noah Moore, Conrad Kiser, W. B. Morris, John Jordan, William R. Taylor, George Lawson.

The case of James Kratzer against Martha Mesier, for the appointment of a guardian was dismissed and the costs paid.

The Empire Cream Separator company has filed suit on an account against Elbert S. Carr, demanding $200.

LAST DAY OF THE VACATION

School "Kids" Will Start on Daily Grind Next Monday.

Today was the last day of the summer vacation for the school "kids" of Rushville. Monday they will have to start on the daily grind of school work. All of the school teachers had reached the city this morning in time for the city teachers institute. The morning was devoted to several addresses by teachers concerning the coming year's work. This afternoon sectional meetings were held and the work for the year outlined and discussed.

WALKS ARE ORDERED BY CITY COUNCIL

Resolutions Calling for Improvement in Stewart and Tompkins Addition Passed.

REMONSTRANCE IS SUSTAINED

At a special meeting of the city council last night the preliminary resolutions for the sidewalk improvements in the Stewart and Tompkins addition were passed and bids for the work will be received October 5. The sidewalks will be constructed on both sides of Twelfth street from Main to Willow and on both sides of Willow from Eleventh to a point 100 feet north of Twelfth street and on Eleventh street from Perkins to Willow.

A cement walk will also be put in on the east side of Main street, from Tenth street to Eleventh street. In this case the property owners were given permission to construct their own walks under the provision of the city ordinance. Last night was the time set for hearing remonstrances, but none were presented to the council, except on the improvement by putting in a cement walk on the south side of Eleventh street from Jackson street to Main street. On this improvement a remonstrance signed by three resident property owners was presented and was sustained by the council. Of the five resident property owners on the street, two favored the improvement.

FIRST SUIT HERE UNDER A NEW LAW

Jones and Younger File Suit to Foreclose Lien on Automobile for Repair Work.

J. D. STEWART IS DEFENDANT

A suit to foreclose a lien on an automobile for repair work was filed today by Odice Jones and Charles Younger, owners of a garage doing business under the firm name of Jones and Younger, against John D. Stewart and O. F. Bussard. The demand is $125. The suit is the first one ever brought here under the law permitting garage men to take liens on machines for repair work.

It is alleged that Stewart owes the garage $66.10. Bussard is named as a defendant to the action because it is alleged he has a prior lien and is asked to answer for his interest.

Martin Kelly has filed an account suit against John D. Stewart, demanding $125.

ABOUT A DOZEN WANT THE JOB

Chamber of Commerce Directors Received Large Number of Applicants for Hitchrack Place.

ONE TO CALL ON MERCHANTS

At Monthly Meeting of Board Enthusiastic Reports Made by Band and Style Show Committee.

There were close to a dozen applicants for the job as caretaker of the hitchrack at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Friday night. The board today invited Tom Scanlan, former nightwatchman, to visit the merchants who support the hitchrack and see if it is agreeable with them for him to take up the work.

That A. M. Price, the former caretaker, who dropped dead last Monday while marching with the local company of Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, at "The War in Indiana" was not appreciated until he was gone is just now being revealed. Merchants are hearing from the country people what a valuable man Mr. Price was, how courteous he was to the women who left their horses at the hitchrack and how he looked after their welfare. It also has developed that many country people thought so much of Mr. Price that they frequently brought him produce.

At the board meeting H. S. Havens, chairman of the band committee, reported that the band concert would continue each Wednesday night throughout this month, making three more concerts to be played. The agreement with the band was that the concerts should continue until the first of October and the necessary funds to defray the expense were raised some time ago.

The committee which made the band concerts possible and the band as well are being widely praised for the entertainment which they have furnished for the people of Rushville and Rush county as well during the summer. Farmers drove in for many miles around in their machines for the concerts. The crowd at the concert this week was the largest out for several weeks. Earl Robertson, soloist, has also added much to the attractiveness of the concerts. Aside from the fact that the concerts have furnished entertainment, they have been a means of supporting the band, an organization which has been too much neglected, in the opinion of most persons. It is the common belief that men who give of their time so lavishly and willingly with such poor returns should be supported most liberally.

Many have testified that without the Chamber of Commerce the band concerts would not have been held. The Chamber of Commerce formed a medium through which a committee could be started on the work and the chairman of the committee was a live one and got results. It is the first time Rushville has had regular band concerts for years and they have been immensely appreciated.

E. R. Casady, chairman of the style show committee of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that the committee had called on all of the merchants during the week and that fifty had joined in the enterprise.

It will be an entirely new thing here. The dates selected are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 21, 22 and 23. The idea of the show is for all merchants to hold their fall openings simultaneously. All the stores will be "dressed up" appropriate to the occasion.

Miss Inez Stager of Carthage was a visitor in this city today.

SAY WAYNE WILL BE REPRESENTED

Boosting Committee Brings Back Optimistic Reports After Visit in Richmond Friday

Ox Roast Committee Decides to Get Another Kettle in Indianapolis, One Here Not Big Enough

Local boosters who were in Richmond Friday reported that there is considerable interest being shown in Wayne county in the Republican ox roast and barbecue to be held in the city park next Wednesday.

Republican leaders in Wayne county are counting on a delegation of 100 Republicans from Richmond and Cambridge City promised to send a good sized crowd when the Rushville boosters stopped there Friday afternoon. Wayne county Republicans do not have to depend on automobiles because the Pennsylvania trains run conveniently for them to come in the morning and return in the evening at 6:35.

The committee on decorations today made the request that every person in Rushville who had a big flag to donate it to the committee. Persons having such flags are asked to take them to Walter W. Hubbard chairman of the committee, at F. B. Johnson & company's drug store, and call Mr. Hubbard by telephone and he will call for them.

The committee also requested that all farmers living on the main pikes leading into Rushville display flags and other decorations on next Wednesday so that visiting delegations, when they reach the edge of the county, will know that the Republicans of Rush county are up and astir and ready to act as hosts. It is hoped to interest Republicans in adjoining counties in the scheme of decorating their homes also.

The committee will also ask merchants to decorate for the day. Because of the large crowd that is expected, it is believed that merchants generally irrespective of politics will help out with the entertainment.

The kettle arrived last evening and rests on a dory near the corner of Second and Main streets. It is not a six hundred gallon kettle as N. D. Lawrence, the "burgoo" man, said it would be. The mathematicians in the court house have been figuring ever since the kettle arrived to determine just how much it would hold. They finally computed the size this morning and found that it will hold 277½ gallons.

The kettle is thirty-one inches deep and fifty-seven inches in diameter. Charles Bales, deputy county auditor, and A. M. Taylor, clerk of the circuit court, both of whom were school teachers before they entered the court house figured the contents of a perfect sphere with a diameter of fifty-seven inches. The depth of one-half of a perfect sphere of that diameter would be twenty-eight inches, thus leaving three inches of the top of the kettle unaccounted for. The contents of the half sphere was found to be 244 plus gallons and the contents of the cylinder three inches high and fifty-seven inches across thirty-three and one-half gallons.

Because the kettle is not as big as expected, the ox roast committee has decided to send to Indianapolis and get one of the kettles which the Columbia Club has secured for the Republican state-wide barbecue at the state fair grounds September 22. It is believed that all the "burgoo" it would take to fill the kettle which

Carranza's Reply, However, is a Refusal to Peace Plea.

(By United Press.) Washington, Sept. 11.—General Carranza's answer to the Pan-American peace plea reached the state department this afternoon. As expected, it was a refusal and did not include a direct request for recognition and did propose a conference at the border. How soon it would be made public in detail was uncertain.

DENIES HE GAVE OUT AN INTERVIEW

German Ambassador Bernstorff Denies he Said Diplomatic Break Would Mean War.

NO STATEMENT AUTHORIZED

(By United Press.) New York, Sept. 11.—A reporter for the United Press this afternoon called the attention of German Ambassador Bernstorff to an interview in today's edition of the Sun crediting to him the statement that a diplomatic break between United States and Germany would result in war.

"I have given no person an interview on any subject and have authorized no such statement," he said. "Does the statement represent your sentiments?" he was asked.

"I can not make any statement of my sentiments."

"Have you authorized any statements of your sentiments?"

"No."

PROPOSES TO OPEN A SOUP HOUSE HERE

Envoy Tharp of Salvation Army Says he Hopes to Provide Shelter For 25 at One Time.

TRUSTEE IS CO-OPERATING

Envoy Noah Tharp, of the local corps of the Salvation Army, stated today that he expected to start a soup house here in the next two or three weeks if a desirable location can be found. He appeared before the city council Friday night and asked permission to establish such an institution and was told by the council that it had no reason to say whether he should or should not. Envoy Tharp stated today that he had the co-operation of the township trustee in the project.

Tharp's idea is that families of many able-bodied men live off the township and that the men who should work get most of the township's donation, failing to divide it with their families. His proposed institution is calculated to take care of cases of that kind. He said he expected to have room for accommodating 25 persons over night. He hopes to make his soup house a place for wayfarers who happen to be here over night and have no funds to buy shelter. He says he has conducted similar institutions elsewhere with success.

GAME SUNDAY.

The K. of C.'s and the Red Men will play Sunday afternoon at Edgewater park. The two teams are great rivals in the Fraternal league and a good game is expected. The contest will start at 2:30 o'clock.

TAGGART'S NAME IS BROUGHT IN

Prosecutor Rucker Says he Solicited $1,000 From Breweries For Campaign Fund.

FAILS TO PLACE IT IN LIST

Styles Perrot Corrupt Chief of Police Appointed by Corrupt Mayor—Speech Unfinished.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., September 11.—Thomas Taggart was brought into Mayor Joseph E. Bell's election conspiracy trial for the first time today when Prosecutor John Rucker declared that the Democratic national committeeman solicited funds from breweries in violation of the corrupt practices act, and did not list the contribution in the report. Taggart is a defendant in the indictment.

"This self-styled perfect angel of this trial who knew no evil, solicited, we can prove $1,000 from the brewers. How much more he solicited we do not know," said Rucker.

It was believed that Rucker, when he spoke of Taggart, as the self-styled angel, referred to a statement Mr. Taggart made to the United Press when James (Bud) Gibson, a defendant, pleaded guilty. Mr. Taggart said: "Gibson is a man I never knew nor had any dealing with in my life." Mr. Taggart was not present today when Rucker launched into an attack on the Indianapolis police department and Sam Perrott, chief of police, and a defendant to the indictment.

"We will show," shouted Rucker, "that Mayor Bell, Sam Perrott and other politicians conspired to accept bribe money from saloon men and other people and that this money went into a slush fund used to corrupt this election while the donors continued their illegal traffic."

"Perrott, a corrupt chief was appointed by a corrupt mayor. The police have been sent here and there on this mission by these men until the force is demoralized. They were stationed at the polls with instructions to hinder the registration because this gang wanted the smallest registration as possible. They beat negroes and arrested them without the slightest cause."

When a dozen negroes led into the Prosecutor's office today and seated themselves in chairs provided for state witnesses it was taken to indicate that the state would open its case with attempting to prove the charges of intimidation of the negroes at the polls.

Rucker detailed instances of alleged corruption in which he declared Bell's hand could be seen. When Attorney Ryan interrupted to ask for facts instead of generalities. De-

The Interstate Commerce Commission's cut in anthracite rates is pretty bituminous for the coal man.

Americans touring Europe after the war will find a more homelike atmosphere than ever before. Consular trade reports indicate that almost everywhere they will encounter veterans with New York and Chicago arms and legs.

Mr. Consul Dumont's report from Florence, Italy, that fast motors have eaten up so much of the Bologna road that it has to be rebuilt would indicate that the Italian automobile is no vegetarian.

WHEAT CROP IS ABOUT THRESHED

Dealers Say That it and Oats in Rush County Practically All Out of Shocks.

THE LAST OF POOR QUALITY

In Several Cases Wet Grain is Threshed and Sold For Hog Feed—Too Musty For Flour.

Elevator men state that they believe most or all of the wheat and oats in this county has now been threshed. Much of the latest to be taken in from the shock has been of a very bad quality owing to the numerous floods the grain went through. Some of it which has been brought to grain dealers as samples has been pronounced to be worth about 80 cents per bushel, while the first quality of dry wheat is now worth about 98 cents. However, there is much of the late threshed grain which is not worth even 80 cents per bushel. At various times grain men have rated much of the wet threshed wheat to be worth about one cent per pound.

In several cases the wet grain has been threshed and sold directly for hog feed. Millers state that they do not care to attempt to make flour out of the musty grain because it always shows in the flour and the housewives have had bad luck with the bread they bake and then there is a howl and the complaints always bounce back at them.

Much of the oats crop of the county has also been threshed in a very poor condition and some fields have been abandoned altogether. Old farmers say they have seen only a few seasons like the present one.

Farmers will begin to fill their silos next week. Only a few new silos have been erected this year. Last year there were a great many. The abundance of hay and other kinds of feed, together with the condition of business generally, probably kept a number of farmers from buying this year. The advantage and great value of the silo on the farm is generally admitted and many farmers who do not now have silos will build them just as soon as they feel they can afford to do so. Some farmers did not consume all their ensilage last year. They will put new ensilage in the silos, leaving the old. It is said ensilage has been known to keep 17 years in as good condition as it was the first year. One farmer filled his silo last year, expecting to buy cattle to feed, did not buy the cattle, so he still has his ensilage good as new.

puty Prosecutor Roach replied that Rucker was giving facts and that the state "will prove everyone of them."

"Bell and Perrott hired repeaters to vote for their pet candidates," cried Rucker. "They went from place to place to vote. Corrupt officials fixed voting machines so that they could not be used when the polls opened, thus delaying voting until legal voters left the polls."

"In one precinct a Bell candidate in the primaries received eleven more Democratic votes than were registered, even though he was opposed by a Democrat," said Rucker. "Although thirty-six justices of the peace at the primaries, in one precinct only four of these received votes and they were all Bell men. That could only happen by a miracle."

"Some of the tally sheets were made to order," he said. "It can be seen where names were rubbed out and others substituted. We will have witnesses to prove that in one precinct out of 190 names, one-third were fictitious."

"Terre Haute nor any other city has such a rotten precinct as the fourth or the fifth ward. It is so rotten that it stinks when you pick up the returns," he said.

Rucker referred to Frank X. O'Brien, the candidate for juvenile court, who withdrew under fire before the election, as "the unspeakable who knew no law."

Court adjourned at noon until 9 a. m. Monday. Rucker was still speaking. He may speak most of Monday morning. The jury was taken for an auto ride this afternoon.

GOVERNMENT TO SAY WAYNE WILL MAKE "CLEANUP" BE REPRESENTED

Country Will be Combed For Plotters Against American Industries, it is Announced.

COMES FROM GOOD AUTHORITY

Washington is Frankly Muddled Over German-American Submarine Warfare Developments.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 11.—A general "clean-up" of all German and Austrian agents who can be convicted of plotting to cripple American industries, has been ordered by the government, it was learned today.

That the whole country will be combed for such offenders was stated by high authority.

The state department it was said planned to dispose of and demand the recall of all diplomats and their representatives.

It was declared that several diplomats have had agents working under them to warn that prosecutions would be made under the German and Austrian criminal codes.

Hit whom it may, the government is going to punish every man who has been illegally active in this country in any European belligerent nation's interest, according to officials of two different government departments.

The number will be much larger than has been suggested hitherto. More than 100 cases may be involved—though this was only a semi-official estimate.

The administration frankly was muddled over the German-American submarine controversy. It was admitted that the state department did not exactly know what the latest note on the Arabic incident meant. It was feared there had been a material recession from the German pledge to conduct under-sea warfare in the future in accordance with the American interpretation of international law.

AMERICAN CATTLE BUYER KIDNAPPED

John Lawenbruck is Taken From United States Soil by Mexicans and Held For Ransom.

LANSING TAKES A HAND

Washington, Sept. 11.—State and War Department officials were aroused over the kidnapping of John Lawenbruck, an American cattle buyer by Mexican bandits at Columbus, N. M. He was seized by a band of Mexicans, said to be soldiers, carried across the border from Columbus and word sent back that he was being held for a $2,000 ransom.

Information of the incident was first communicated to the War Department. It was at once taken up with Secretary Lansing, who sent representations to Gen. Villa through Consular Agent Carothers, demanding that the ranchman be released. Columbus is about 100 miles west of El Paso, Tex., bordering on the state of Chihuahua, which is under Villa control.

The administration has reports indicating that Gen. Villa is losing control of some of his forces in northern Mexico and that many of the soldiers have broken away from their commands and organized into belligerent bands, adding to menacing conditions along the border.

Assistant Secretary of War Breckinridge conferred with Secretary Lansing about the situation. It was said that no orders had been sent to American commanders on the border. There was, however, an intimation that United States forces would not hesitate to cross the border to rescue the kidnapped American if his whereabouts could be ascertained.

arrived Friday night would feed the crowd that is expected.

It was announced today that the contract had been let by the ox roast committee to the Peoples Meat market to furnish two thousand pounds of beef for the barbecue. That is equal to four dressed cattle.

An example of the kind of energy the Republicans of Shelby county are using to bring a crowd here is found in today's Shelbyville Morning News, which contains a circular letter sent to all automobile owners in the county urging them to come to the ox roast. The delegations from the eastern and western parts of the county will meet on the pike, two miles west of here and come in together. All machines will be decorated and headed by a brass band.

A committee composed of Elisha Sexton, Major Wilson and Elmer Bassett have sent out the following letter:

You are especially invited and requested to attend the Republican Love Feast and Barbecue at Rushville, next Wednesday, September 15. This is to be the last District Love Feast this year and the "Old Burnt District" desires to surpass them all in point of number and interest. This can only be done by united effort.

We propose to take a delegation of automobiles from Shelby county. The plan is for those in the central, southern and western parts of the county to meet at the public square, in Shelbyville and preceded by a band, to go by way of Morristown to a point on the Brookville State Road two miles west of Rushville, where we will meet automobiles from the eastern part of the county at 11:00 o'clock, and then by line of parade on into Rushville.

All automobile owners, of all political parties, are invited and requested to make up his own load and meet and go with us on this day of pleasure.

Everybody is invited and will be most cordially welcome.

You are also requested to see your neighbor and ask him to join us.

Burgoo, better known as ox soup will be served free.

Rushville is preparing to feed seven thousand people and we want you to be one of them. You are requested to decorate your auto.

MURDER OF BOY TO BE INVESTIGATED

Howard Grand Jury Will Begin Probe Into Mysterious Shooting at Young America.

TWO COUNTIES ARE INVOLVED

Kokomo, Ind., Sept. 11.—It is probable that upon the convening of the Howard Circuit Court next Monday for its September term the jury will immediately be set to work investigating the killing of Walter Collins an Ervin Township boy, near Young America last Sunday night. It is said here that both Sheriff Brown of Howard county and Sheriff Stanley of Cass county believe Collins was killed in Howard county. Ellis Wood, a wealthy farmer, is held in the Cass county jail upon a charge of murder.

A tip was given Sheriff Brown that, it is believed, will bring forward the most important witness yet found.

The ladies aid society of the St. Paul's M. E. church is preparing to operate a stand at the city park next Wednesday at the Republican Barbecue. Coffee, pie, lemonade, and ice cream cones will be sold.

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Sept. 11.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul, who is generally credited with being the cleverest fighter in the ring today, and Packey McFarland of Chicago, who was generally credited with all that two or three years ago, will come together at the Brighton Motordrome tonight. The tilt is scheduled to last ten rounds, and there is no reason to doubt that it will be any shorter, barring lucky punches.

The pugilistic world has been fed up for a month for this bout. Past records have been delved into, almost everyone who ever heard of a boxing glove has speculated on its outcome, and when it is all summed down this big feature stands out above the rest—that no one, not even McFarland or Gibbons themselves—knows any more about it than anyone else. And that is nothing!

Jim Jeffries proved to the boxing world at Reno five years ago that there is no "dope" on a fighter who has been out of the game several years. Jeff was going better than he had ever gone in his life, according to the men who watched him train—he had speed, agility, the punch—everything that had carried him to the front ranks of boxers. But after he got in the ring he didn't have anything except a memory of what had been, and a mighty sore head.

McFarland has been out of the game over two years. In that time he hasn't boxed much even in practice and any dab of an athletic judge can testify that it doesn't take a man long to go back when he isn't working; that a punch is easier acquired than removed. Not that Packey has a punch, however, at least externally. He looks, and says, he is in shape.

There can be little doubt that the St. Paul phantom is right. He has been boxing steadily, working right along, and boxing critics consider him now at the zenith of a successful career.

There is plenty of Gibbons dope. There is none of McFarland. And for that reason fight fans generally have picked the little Minnesota man to win.

Chances of a knockout, either way, were regarded today as about as probable as Bryan's ascendancy to the White House. It takes a good man to put away even a second rater in a ten round affair, particularly if that second rater has a pair of legs that conceal the speed in getting away from a sleep wallop that McFarland's does.

McFarland is more or less noted for the fact that he never acquired a tin ear or any other disfiguring marks in the ring.

"Nobody's going to spoil my map," is the McFarland slogan. And nobody, even the best ones—have spoiled Mike's to any great extent, so fight fans particularly New York ones, are looking for a rattling good exhibition of scientific boxing, and little or no slugging.

Next to the possibility of a h. k. o., interest has been centered largely in the amount the boxers are to get. McFarland is scheduled to pull down coin at the rate of nearly $600 a minute if the battle goes ten rounds. He is guaranteed $17,500, win lose or draw. Mike is going to collect $15,000 for his end.

All records stand shattered for the amount paid for a ten round fight, and a no-decision affairs, at that. Opinions vary like the breeze as to how the promoters are going to come out. W. C. Marshall, some New York sporting men and sport writers are behind the affair.

The record books show that McFarland has engaged in over a hundred fights since he broke into the game. He has won practically all of these—barring the no-decision bouts. He won over Freddie Welsh in Milwaukee in 1908, knocked out Jimmy Britt the same year, and later fought Welsh a 25 round draw. Ray Bronson, of Indianapolis held him to a 20 round draw—and there was a lot of kicking on the decision—in New Orleans. Those who saw the bout favored the Hoosier.

Gibbons hasn't fought that many, but has been equally successful. His record shows knockouts of Young Ahearn, Bob McAllister, Wildcat Ferns, other lesser lights, and a whole raft of no decision affairs.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE.

Candidates for the Rushville football team will work out Sunday morning at ten o'clock at Edgewater park. All the men desiring a try-out are urged to be at the park in uniform. The prospects for a good team are very bright and it is believed that a winning team can be developed. The first practice should bring out a big field of candidates.

A Museum's Worst Enemy.

One of the worst enemies of museums have to contend with is a tiny beetle, which works so neatly that there is no evidence of its work until the specimen is found dismembered or otherwise ruined. Neither in America or England has any effective remedy been found. The tiny mischief worker is the Anthrenus museumorum. The adult measures only of even less than one-eighth of an inch in length and is covered in form. The female lays eggs in specimens, and the larvae feed on them—the valued butterfly and the magnificent beetle brought from afar. These larvae are small, plump, hairy grubs, and the sole sign of their presence, likely to be overlooked by the amateur, is a few specks of brown dust in the case. Scientific American.

PURDUE EXPECTS WINNING TEAM

Boilermakers Have Plenty of Material And Team Will Be as Heavy as Any Conference.

Wisconsin Is Feared by Lafayette Team—Expects to Finish Higher Than Last Year

(By United Press.)

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 11.—All of Purdue's candidates for the 1915 varsity crew assembled on Stuart Field today for the first time this year. Coach Smith called it the best squad he has had since coming to the Lafayette school. Conference rules prevented the coach from doing more than give the squad the once over. He will take charge of it on September 20. On that date Captain Blocker will have charge of the daily workouts.

It was to be noted today that in one thing Purdue is not going to be surpassed by any member of the Big Nine—that was beef and brawn. The four candidates for the two guard positions—Arbuckle, Jordan, Proud, and Mason—weighed in the afternoon at an average of 195 pounds. Other candidates for the line are Oxer, Sherridan, Cooley, Mackintosh, Montgomery, Lognecker and Dickson. The most promising candidates for halfbacks are Abrell and Van Akon. Burns and Beickner are believed to stand the best chance for berths at tackle. Eldridge, Pierre and Olmstead, ends of last year's squad, will be given a chance as regulars this year.

The season will open on October 2 with Wabash at Lafayette. Another small school is taken on the following Saturday with Beloit on Stuart Field. The Wisconsin game here October 16 is expected to be the hardest on the Purdue card. If the Boilermakers can win this game, the first Big Nine contest of the season, it is believed that Purdue will occupy a higher place in the conference standing than she has for many years.

Iowa comes to Lafayette this year, the first since 1912. Purdue's card follows:—
Oct. 2—Wabash at Lafayette
Oct. 9—Beloit at Lafayette
Oct. 23—Chicago at Chicago
Oct. 30—Iowa at Lafayette
Nov. 13—Kentucky State at Lafayette
Nov. 20—Indiana at Bloomington

PACE AT STATE FAIR

Shelbyville Mare Who Could Not do Better Than Fifth Here Comes Back in Indianapolis.

DIAMETER DRAWN LAST HEAT

Hazel H., a chestnut mare owned by George Blackburn of Shelbyville, who could do not better than fifth place in 2:17 pace on Saturday of Rush county fair, faced about at the state fair in Indianapolis Friday and won the last three heats of the 2:17 pace in record time. All three heats were 2:10 1/4 when the best time in the 2:17 pace here was 2:15 1/4.

The first two heats of the race were run Thursday morning, but the finish had to be postponed on account of rain. Hazel H. finished ninth in first heat, third in the second heat on Thursday. This is further proof of the class of the races at the Rush county fair this year.

Diameter, driven by Frank Lindsay of this county, finished tenth in the first two heats, second in the third, the fourth and was drawn in the fifth heat of the 2:17 pace. Diameter was unable to win here.

Saving and Small Earnings.

In the Scotch parish where the savings bank originated a great majority of the inhabitants were poor cottagers. Their average wages did not run over $4.00 (about $2 a week). "It seemed," wrote Samuel Smiles, "a very unlikely place in which to establish a bank for savings, where the poor people were already obliged to strain every nerve to earn a bare living, to provide the means of educating their children—for, however small his income, the Scottish peasant almost invariably contrived to save something where-with to send his children to school—and to pay their little contributions to the friendly society of the parish."

In four years this unpromising field yielded to the Rev. Henry Duncan's bank at Edinburgh nearly $7,000. The bank became self-sustaining, and did over Scotland and England the new savings bank idea spread. Chicago News.

ALMOST EQUALS JACK LONDON

Society Yachtman of Los Angeles Had Series of Adventures Which Proved Thrilling.

FINDS COLONY OF CANNIBALS

Unable to Get Money in Australia and Worked His Way Back to Honolulu on Ship.

Los Angeles, Sept. 11.—Warren D. Wood, former commodore of the South Coast Yacht Club, and a well known Los Angeles clubman, is back at his luxurious home here today after a series of adventures in the south seas calculated to make Robinson Crusoe jealous.

Wood went to Honolulu six months ago on a pleasure trip, while there he received an offer of the third mate's job on the British ship Krestle, and accepted it—for a lark.

Then the Jack-London stuff began. When far out on the boundless sea, Skipper Tindle of the Krestle began to notice that his "third luff" shaved daily and appeared on deck wearing silk neckties. The hardy skipper objected to it. There were tense scenes and exciting situations, with the use of belaying pins seemingly imminent.

Finally Wood saw that eventually somebody would have to be knocked into the lee scuppers, and being an athlete, and hard as the proverbial nails he decided to quit his job rather than hurt the captain's feelings or anything else. But it is difficult to quit a third mate's job in the middle of the south Pacific.

Wood was resourceful. One night the Krestle dropped anchor of a shadowy, tropical isle. Wood hopped into a ship's boat and rowed ashore. There he found a colony of cannibals, who ate bananas when there was nothing else handy.

He managed to keep out of the frying pan for five weeks, during which the savages fed him like a king and viewed his increasing weight with evident relish. The situation was becoming a bit embarrassing when the little Norwegian steamer Thomas arrived.

Disguised behind a five weeks beard, Wood approached the Swedish captain and asked for passage to Honolulu. He told the captain he had mansions in Los Angeles, and lots of money. The captain elevated his beetling brows, but lowered them again, growled menacingly, and finally consented to let the society man work his way to Sydney, Australia.

At Sydney, Wood told himself he would cable home for a money bag that would astonish the natives. But he did not. He was unable to identify himself to the satisfaction of the cable company, which wanted cash for message in advance. The American consul wouldn't risk the amount demanded.

Two weeks later Wood—overalls, beard and all, asked for a job on the liner Ventura. He got one—peeling potatoes.

But he got his revenge. He obtained money in Honolulu, and when the Ventura came through on its next voyage to California, he appropriated the best suite and sat at the captain's right hand all the way to San Francisco.

Lumber Camp Worker And Family Are Found Starving to Death in Negro Shanty

UNABLE TO FIND EMPLOYMENT

Welfare Workers of Natchez, Miss., Help Them Along And Save Them From Starvation

(By United Press.)

Natchez, Miss., Sept. 11.—Desperately ill from exposure and starvation after having trudged 200 miles through alternate stretches of dusty, sun-scorched roads and flooded areas, Robert Powell a lumber-camp worker, his wife, four small children and agrown daughter, the latter deserted by her husband, were discovered near death in an abandoned negro shanty on the outskirts of Natchez. Welfare workers are bringing them back to health, and recording their story for preservation. When they have recovered so they can trudge again they probably will set forth once more on their wanderings in search of "their opportunity to toil."

Kind-hearted settlers living near the cabin discovered the Powell family all lying on the damp clay floor of the shack, which has been deserted even by the negro farm tenants. They gave them warm food and heard them recite their story in colorless, sing-song fashion. The Powells were too discouraged, their inspiration was too far gone for them to show animation even in the narration of their sufferings and privation.

Powell, employed as a mill-hand received $1.50 a day, a big wage for the Powell family and thousands of other such families in the South where negro labor is cheap. But he was "subject to the fortunes of the industry" and work therefore was not steady. Sometimes he would present himself in the morning eager for work and after waiting the pleasure of the foreman would be told there was "nothing doing" that day. At other times notices were read aloud to him and his fellow workers that work would be stopped for several days, even weeks. The Powells were unable to save money.

One day a notice was posted that the plant had been abandoned and that no further labor would be required.

The Powells decided it were better to move and spar with starvation on the road than to stay where they were and face it as a certainty. They moved, carrying their few miserable possessions with them and taking turns at "toting" the youngest children, mere infants. All summer the search for work continued. Powell was weak and emaciated and obtained very little employment but he managed to earn food for his road party as they went along. Then they reached Natchez and having had no work and consequently no food for several days they balked at nothing, not even the abandoned negro shanty, as a place to rest and fade into death.

Powell is working now but his employment is not steady and besides, he is only one of hundreds here in Natchez so no individual attention can be paid to his case after his family is lifted from its present plight.

A STUDY BY U. S. DEPARTMENT

Where Individuals Act Independently, There is Little Uniformity in Grading.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Effective co-operative organizations afford the best means for profitable marketing of the country's increasing apple crop, according to a survey of marketing conditions in the industry just published as bulletin No. 302, "Apple Market Investigations 1914-15" by the United States Department of Agriculture. In States where apples are boxed instead of barreled, growers' associations handle a large percentage of the output and in securing uniformity in the pack and advantageous distribution of the crop are much more successful than individual producers in other sections. Where individuals act independently there is little uniformity in grading and much poor fruit is shipped which, in seasons of large production such as 1914, cannot be disposed of profitably.

Observations in the Chicago market showed that 25 per cent. of the arrivals in earlot bulk, or the equivalent of 350 earloads, and 10 per cent of the barreled shipments, the equivalent of about 160 earloads, were of such poor quality that the price would not have paid the freight charges had these apples been shipped by themselves. By throwing out this poor fruit the farmers would not only have saved the cost of packing and shipping, but would have cleared the market for the good stock. Similar conditions were found elsewhere.

In this connection it is said that the grade and package laws now in operation in a number of States are proving effective in stabilizing the market. Uniformity in state legislation of this kind, the authors state, is, however, most desirable.

The effect of the war upon the industry has been found to be less disastrous than was apprehended. Because of the cheapness of the fruit, consumption was stimulated until the exports far exceeded expectations. The German ports being closed, large quantities were shipped direct to the Scandinavian markets for the first time and this should prove of considerable benefit in future years. Direct trade with South America has also increased greatly and should continue to do so, especially if the growing trade in meat products affords additional return facilities for shipment. Careful selection, grading and packing by hand is, however, essential to the delivery of the fruit in good condition and only stock that may be classed as "Fancy" or "Extra Fancy" should be exported to South American ports.

SAYS HE WAS "BOUND OUT"

Claude V. White Files Unusual Claim Against Estate.

Columbus, Ind., Sept. 11.—Alleging that he served the late John White, the last-surviving veteran of the Mexican war in Bartholomew county, for nineteen years as "bound boy," Claude V. White has filed a claim for $4,000 against his foster father's estate. It is alleged the claimant was bound out to White by his mother in 1881.

ALL SHOULD ATTEND

(Middletown News)
September 16 is the date for the Republican rally and barbecue of the sixth district at Rushville. It is to be an event of the old kind where every Republican will be welcome to participate and renew his faith in the party. Prominent speakers will attend and plenty enthusiasm will be on tap.

SAME QUESTIONS RAISED IN SUIT

Validity of Public Service Commission Act is Attacked in Court at Logansport.

IS LIKE ONE BROUGHT HERE

Contended That Commission Can Not Take Over City's Power —Phone Rates Raised.

Practically the same questions are raised in a suit filed at Logansport Friday challenging the validity of the state public service commission law as were raised in the suit brought by the city for an injunction to prevent the enforcement of the public service commission's orders raising the price of gas for two local companies and for a review of the order. The case was to be argued Friday, but that was postponed when the defense decided to change its tactics.

The suit was filed in the circuit court at Logansport by M. Winfield, who is himself the plaintiff. The complaint charges that the Public Service Commission has exceeded its powers in increasing the rates of the Logansport Home Telephone Company above the rates fixed when the company took a franchise from the city.

The complaint further alleges that the telephone company can not legally surrender or terminate its franchise and that the commission can not legally take over the powers of the city in the matter of fixing the rates for public utilities.

It is averred that the law creating the Public Service Commission is unconstitutional because it tends to impair the obligation of a contract.

The commission recently granted to the Logansport Home Telephone Company an increase in rates based upon the appraised value of the property. The telephone company, an organization of Logansport business men offered to sell its plant and business to the city at the value fixed upon it by the appraisers of the state commission.

In the suit Winfield does not disclose for whom he is acting, the inference being that he has brought the suit of his own volition.

TO PRAY FOR STUDENTS

Educational Sunday is New Thing Started in New Jersey

(By United Press.)

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 11.—The worshippers throughout New Jersey have been asked by State Commissioner of Education Calvin N. Kendall to remember especially in their devotions tomorrow the more than 600,000 school children in public and private schools who have just begun another term's work.

Last year Dr. Kendall inaugurated "Educational Sunday" and it was observed in many churches in different parts of the State. Tomorrow the day is expected to be more fully carried out than a year ago.

SPECIAL DAY HERE, TOO—

Something in the nature of "Educational Sunday" will be observed here also tomorrow. There will be special services for school children at the Main Street Christian church and at night the pastor, the Rev. C. M. Yocum, will preach a sermon on the subject.

ARE AGAIN ACTIVE.

(By United Press.)

London, Sept. 11.—German submarines have sunk three more British merchantmen in the last thirty-six hours. In addition a French cargo boat has been sunk off the Algerian coast by an Austrian submarine.

The Royal-Neighbors will have a called meeting Monday night to transact all business coming before the camp. There will be no meeting of the lodge Tuesday night.
